BEGINNER SKIING: YOUR VERY FIRST SKI RUN

It's alright, we'll go easy on you. The priority is to have fun. Use these tips to prep yourself for your first ski experience and by the end of your ski-cation, you'll have mastered techniques like controlled stops and parallel skiing.

FUN FACT

Archaeologists have found recorded evidence that skiing was around even back in 5000 B.C.

GOAL

By the end of your ski-cation, beginners will have mastered techniques like downhill and parallel skiing.

THE BASICS

FIND THAT SWEET SPOT

- Get your first taste of skiing at resorts like Club Med Sahoro, Club Med Yabuli and Club Med Alpe d'Huez, which are renowned for having excellent facilities for beginners.

BABY, IT'S COLD OUTSIDE

- Stock up on clothing that's not just warm, but waterproof.
- If possible, acclimatise yourself beforehand by visiting indoor snow parks in your region.

LEAVE IT TO THE PROS

- Get equipment that best suits your build. If you're hiring equipment* from us, our staff will ensure that you're fitted with the right gear.
- Your Club Med package includes lessons on the slope. Master basic skiing and boarding techniques from internationally qualified ski and snowboard instructors.

SUNNY SKIES AHEAD

- You might only see snow for miles, but being on mountaintops means you can get sunburned easily. Remember to apply sunscreen before hitting the slopes.

TONE UP

- Being in shape means surviving those slopes longer. Here are a few warm-ups you can do before strapping on your skis:
 - Leg Lifts
 - Squats
 - Spine twist

INTERMEDIATE SKIING: TAKING IT TO THE NEXT LEVEL

Now you've started to get the hang of the slopes, it's time to put your new skills to the test. Here's what to keep in mind when you're fine-tuning your technique and tackling trickier grounds.

WHAT'S NEXT

BACK TO BASICS

- As confident as you might be about having conquered your basic techniques, a little refresher wouldn't hurt. As BASI ski instructor Steve Marsh says, "If you can nail all the basics really well, it will help you master the mountain better as you progress to intermediate skiing. A lot of people skip through things—for example, they might be a little lazy about standing on the outside ski—which will make steeper slopes hard."

FLEX ZONE

- It's all about flexion techniques. Turn your skis using your feet, and roll your ankles towards the upper slope.
- Always sustain a good bend (flex) in both ankles and knees.

SLIP AND SLIDE

- Take on slippery ice patches with the right posture by dragging the poles in the snow on either side of you.
- If you encounter tricky sections, learn to side-slip (inch your way slowly down, without sliding forwards or backwards).

FIND YOUR BALANCE

- Now you're in steeper terrain, it's all the more important to up your balance and coordination. Try cycling or hiking with a backpack before your ski holiday.

THE MIDDLE GROUND

- Keep an eye out for skiing spots that test your newfound skills, but don't push you beyond your limits. Consider Club Med Tomamu, the newest Club Med ski resort in Asia, an intermediate skier's haven. Also consider Paradiski, the largest combined ski area in Europe which is home to 4 Club Med resorts.

DON'T BE A BACKSEAT DRIVER

- It's a common error that every intermediate skier does at least once. Skiing in the backseat means leaning too far back as you go down the hill. Learn to put pressure on the front of your skis so you're better at speed on steeps, maintaining control through jumps and drops.

INSIDER TIP

Moderate downhill skiing burns an average of 400 calories an hour, while uphill cross-country skiing can burn up to 1,000 calories an hour. So don't feel bad about loading up at our buffets; dig in.

FUN FACT

The world record for the longest ski jump is held by Stefan Kraft, for a jump of 253.5 metres.

ADVANCED SKIING: FEEL THE ADRENALINE

You're now a master of the sport, gliding effortlessly both on- and off-piste. Arm yourself with these handy tips and you're ready to take on the ultimate challenge: the world renowned black slopes.

PERFORMING YOUR BEST

GET REFRESHED

- Before you hit those black slopes, consider a quick refresher course to help brush up on technique.

TAKE IT SLOW

- Now you're in pro territory, you might be tempted to conquer as much ground as quickly possible, but always remember to listen to your body. "When you are on the slopes, don't overdo it: if you feel yourself flagging, just stop", says BASI instructor, Annabel Seele. "The minute you build up too much lactic acid and start to fade, your technique goes to pot; you fall into old bad habits and it only inhibits your progress."

THE RIGHT FIT

- Opt for stiffer, stronger skis. Tougher terrain means you'll be putting more pressure on your equipment.
- Ensure your DIN setting is not too high or low.

PLAN AHEAD

- Plan your first three turns before starting, then look ahead as you go. As instructor Annabel Seele says, "The first turn and a correct pole plant is key—it makes you start the process and get into a rhythm."
- Adjust your stance to fit snow conditions, especially when it's heavy or crusty on top.

THE BLACKLIST

- Black slopes like The Grand Couloir in Courchevel and Mont Vallon are favored by many advanced skiers.
- If you're looking for great off-piste slopes, try the Le Fornet Trees in Val d'Isere or La Plagne.
- Kick it up a notch at Club Med Tomamu and Club Med Yabuli in Asia, both known for its stunning white snowscapes.

SKIING WITH KIDS: WINTER FAMILY FUN

Whether you've got a young one who's never seen snow or a champion skier in your family, our runs have something for the whole family. By the end of your ski vacation, kids age 4 and above can glide home with different medals based on their ski levels: Class 1, 2, 3, and more.

FUN FACT

Astronaut Harrison Schmitt said that astronauts travelling to the moon should learn the art of cross country skiing as he believed that its techniques would make walking on the moon easier. He even envisioned 'lunar skiing holidays' in the future.

TIPS

GARDEN VARIETY

- Look out for resorts with nursery slopes and snow gardens. Snow gardens are areas designed to help little ones learn the basics in a safe environment. They're equipped with ski tows and magic carpets to make learning even more fun.
- Choose a place like Tomamu with a wide range of easy runs to keep your kids engaged.
- Every Club Med ski resort in Asia comes with included Snow Garden facilities for first-timers ages 4 to 10. Included ski and snowboard classes begin at ages 4 and 8 respectively in Asia.

GO FOR RENTAL

- As your kids grow, rental equipment* gives you the flexibility to find what's right for them at every stage.
- Our resorts offer equipment* for rental by the day for all kinds of skiers.

THE EARLY BIRD

- Most ski lifts open at 9 am, so be sure to get there early to beat the crowd and maximise your family ski day.

LAYER UP

- To help your child acclimatise to the cold, it's best to dress them in three separate layers. The first layer should be breathable and sweat-absorbent. The second layer should be something that insulates, like a sweater. The outer layer is the most important, so make sure it's something water and windproof, like a ski jacket. It's also a good idea to give them cosy headwear as 80% of the body's heat loss is through the head.
- If you are not looking to invest in a good ski jacket for your first ski vacation, fret not as our Asian ski resorts offer ski jackets and pants for rent too.

*Equipment hire at extra costs

YOUR SKI JOURNEY: AS EASY AS 1, 2, SKI!

We've put in every effort to make your ski holiday as effortless as possible. With our Facilitate Your Arrival service¹, all the nitty gritty details of your ski experience are handled even before you step foot into our resort. Skip the queues and get right to the slopes!

HOW FACILITATE YOUR ARRIVAL WORKS

- We'll send an 'Facilitate Your Arrival' form to your email address 30 days before your scheduled check-in.
- Fill in the form up to 3 days before your arrival with your details (height, weight, skiing level etc.)
- Based on your information, our G.O.s will prepare the most suitable skiing equipment* and classes for you before you arrive.

ONCE YOU ARRIVE

- You'll receive your all-access ski pass upon check-in.
- Grab your equipment from your pre-assigned locker in the Ski Room with your digital Club Med bracelet.
- Strap in! At our ski-in/ski-out resorts, you're good to go once you step outside.
- Use your ski pass for VIP priority access to all ski lifts.
- Join your classes and learn to ski under the guidance of our certified ski school instructors.

WIND DOWN

- Enjoy a wide variety of après-ski options like heated swimming pools and saunas to relax after a hard day's ski.

JAPAN

Chase champagne powder snow and cultural discovery.

Japan is renowned for its incredible powder snow, with promises of over 21 metres of snow in some prefectures. Regardless of where you ski, you're guaranteed the world's driest, lightest and deepest powder snow. Japan's northernmost island, Hokkaido, is peppered with phenomenal ski slopes that promise reliable snowfall and soft snow perfect for beginners.

Resorts in the region contain traditional Japanese rooms, indoor and outdoor hot tubs and snow gardens for the kids.

JAPAN

Home to some of the world's freshest seafood, dairy and premium beef, as well as dedicated Japanese chefs who perfect age-old recipes for the sophisticated palates of travellers today.

FOOD

Japanese cuisine offers a great variety of dishes and regional specialties, each with their own unique culinary traditions. Travelling through the country, you will be in for an unforgettable gastronomic journey. Here's a selection of Japan's most popular foods.

SNOW CRAB

Also known as zawaigani, this delicacy is usually eaten in winter, when harvesting is permitted. Delicately sweet and uniquely flavoured, it can be enjoyed fresh, salt-boiled, steamed or in warm soup.

NABE

Stay toasty during winter with this traditional hot pot that is often filled with different kinds of vegetables and protein in a rich dashi chicken broth. This well-balanced meal is traditionally eaten by sumo wrestlers but is now commonly enjoyed during winter.

YAKINIKU

Paired with fresh Hokkaido vegetables and rice, indulge in a warm, sumptuous grilled feast of Kuroge Wagyu Cross Karubi—a well marbled thin sliced beef—or Boneless Short Rib from the renowned Tokachi farm.

RAMEN

Warm up after skiing with a bowl of ramen, usually of a soy sauce or miso soup base, that typically includes wheat noodles, sliced pork, dried seaweed, bamboo shoots, and scallions.

IZAKAYA

Gather with friends for a casual and authentic Japanese dine-in experience offering appetisers, grilled meat and fish, paired with local drinks such as sake and shochu after a day out of skiing.

SHIRUKO

A comforting sweet treat in snowy weather, Shiruko is warm red bean porridge topped with melt-in-your-mouth mochi.

AMAZAKE

Made with malted rice, Amazake is a delicious non-alcoholic sweet drink to not only warm you up after a ski day, but also help relieve fatigue and prevent cold.

CULTURE

Japan is a timeless place where ancient traditions are interwoven with modern life. Although the country appears to be exceedingly modern, it is still deeply connected to its traditional cultural practices. There's more to Japan than meets the eye.

"Japan", or Nihon or Nippon in Japanese, means "Land of the Rising Sun". It was once believed that Japan was the first country to see the sun rise in the East at dawn.

Over two billion Japanese comic books, graphic novels and manga are sold in Japan each year.

Cherry blossoms, or sakura, are Japan's national flower.

Japanese Haiku poetry consists of only three lines and is the world's shortest poetic form.

Raw horse meat, basashi, is considered a delicacy in Japan, sliced thinly and eaten raw. The Japanese consume about 7,461 tons of horsemeat each year.

The Japanese regard the stomach, hara, as the seat of emotions, whereas in the West, it is considered to be the heart. The Japanese believe that if one takes care of the stomach, life takes care of itself.

CHINA

Discover a winter haven decked with ice-frosted trees.

Home to the biggest population in the world, many know that China is rich in history and culture. What few know about China, however, is that it's similarly chock-full of stunning natural beauty, from the kaleidoscopic 'Rainbow Mountains' in Danxia to the pure white snowscapes of Yabuli.

Delve into these lesser known winter wonderlands for an unforgettable adventure.

FUN FACT

The ice-cream that we have come to know and love today was created in China. The first recorded version of this delicious frozen treat was a milk and rice mixture, packed in snow over 4,000 years ago.

AMERICAS

Ski experiences that will impress even the most experienced skiers.

Québec is the only walled city in North America. It is one of the most beautiful cities and the largest province in Canada, which is 41 times the size of the Netherlands, 51 times the size of Belgium, and 3 times the size of France. Experience the region's ever-changing landscape and immerse in the unspoiled natural scenery with amazing views of the Saint Lawrence River. Québec offers you the most spectacular skiing east of the Rockies that will impress even the most experienced skiers.

FUN FACT

Charlevoix rests in a 33-mile-wide crater formed by a massive meteorite that slammed into North America 350 million years ago. Not to forget, Old Québec is a must-see UNESCO World Heritage Site.

THE ULTIMATE SKI HOLIDAY CHECKLIST

Here's everything you'll need for a safe, comfortable and fun trip

Ski Goggles & Sunglasses

A pair of goggles or sunglasses with a tinted, polarised lens will help protect your eyes.

Helmet

Good helmets are easy to find online or in sports shops. If you don't fancy buying one, rent a good helmet at any Club Med resort.

Puffer Jacket

A lightweight, down feather Puffer jacket can be folded into a palm-sized bundle and is the perfect thing to pull out if the weather takes a turn.

Gloves

Waterproof gloves or mittens are a necessity when it comes to keeping warm on the slopes.

Protective Gear

When moving at high speed, we recommend for you to wear protective gear such as padded shorts, knee and elbow pads, as well as back protectors to minimise injury.

Sunscreen

The sun is more powerful when you're up high. Factor 50 and above sunscreens are recommended on particularly sunny days.

GoPro

With many different mounts available, you'll be able to get your ski footage and photos from multiple angles.

Backpack

Great for carrying your sunscreen, warm layers and other extra equipment. Just be careful with any loose straps when using a chairlift.

Thermal Layers

These thin tight-fitting shirts and leggings will hug your body and heat up a thin layer of air between your skin and the fabric.

Weatherproof Outerwear

Ski-specific waterproof and breathable outfits usually come equipped with other useful features for tackling the mountains. You can also rent one your size at any of our Asian mountains*.

Face Mask

Very useful for protecting your face from the elements. Keeps you nice and toasty in extreme cold and protects your face from the sun's rays.

Water Bottle

It's too easy to forget that your body is actually doing some hard work amidst all that fun, so remember to keep hydrated.

Lip Balm

Your lips need sun protection too. A layer of lip balm with SPF will help keep your lips safe from the sun, and the dryness and cracking that comes with cold winds.

Ski Socks

Your socks should be long so that they don't finish inside the boot, and make sure they fit well so that they don't bunch up inside the boot.

Neck Warmer

A good neck warmer is important to provide extra protection against the cold.

Hand Warmer

These warming pads are great on cold days. Placing them nearer to your heart or core can be even more effective than having one in your gloves.

A GUIDE TO SKI AND SNOWBOARD SIZING

Choose the right equipment & maximise your fun on the slopes

SKI BINDINGS

Ski bindings are safety features designed to release your foot if enough force is applied. Don't worry if you're unsure which binding setting is right for you, every Club Med ski resort has rental technicians to ensure they're applied correctly to both skis.

SKI BOOTS

Don't be surprised if your ski boot size and shoe size are completely different! The ski boot sizing method is called Mondopoint, measuring the length of your foot in centimetres. Our rental technicians will ensure you have correctly sized boots, so you can enjoy your skiing comfortably and safely.

SKI SIZES

Your ski size depends on your height, weight and ability, or even your general preference. In general, when you stand your skis upright, the tip should be somewhere between your chin and the top of your head.

As a guide, beginners generally need shorter skis than advanced skiers, for greater control at lower speeds and better sharp turns.

SKIER HEIGHT (IN)	SKI LENGTH (CM)
4'4"	115-130
4'6"	125-140
4'8"	130-145

5'10"	165-185
6'	170-190
6'2"	175-195
6'4"	180-200

SNOWBOARD SIZES

Your body weight and the type of riding you're planning on doing will determine your snowboard size. A good starting point is to get a board that comes up to your chin and then size up or down depending on your weight.

The width of the board you choose is measured at the narrowest point of the board and will correspond directly to your boot size. Your toes should hang slightly over the edge of the board.

RIDER HEIGHT (IN)	RIDER WEIGHT (LB)	SNOWBOARD SIZE (CM)

SPRING SKIING: ENJOY LONGER SKI SEASONS

Sunny weather, fewer crowds, and more affordable prices—there's so much to love about spring skiing. Starting from March and lasting through May, gear up to ski twice in a season or get to spend more time on the slopes with shorter lift lines. With longer ski seasons, you can look forward to a great ski experience with family and friends even during the Easter holidays.

AFFORDABLE PRICES

Lower prices on accommodation and ski passes towards the end of the ski season means short but just as amazing ski experiences.

BLUEBIRD DAYS

Skiing in spring comes with better weather—"bluebird day"—a sunny, cloudless weather, making the most of your ski adventure.

T-SHIRT WEATHER

Put aside your thick winter gear as you won't be needing them on your ski runs in the sunny spring weather and breezy winds.

LONGER SUNNY DAYS

You need not be concerned about the sun setting early as in spring, you can enjoy longer sunny days and ski your heart out.

FEWER SKIERS AROUND

Shorter lift lines means more ski time on the slopes! Great for beginners and those desiring to perfect their skills.

AMAZING SCENERY

Together with the sunny weather and blue skies, watch mountain life unfold right before your eyes as you ski down the slopes.

CLUB MED KIRORO

With the perfect conditions for high-quality, pristine powder snow, Kiroro enjoys the highest annual snowfall in Japan reaching up to 21 m a year, with spring skiing all the way from November to May.

Ski Domain: Nagamine Peak & Asari Peak
Resort Altitude: 520 m
Elevation: 1,180 m-520 m
Ski Runs: 30 km
Ski Lifts: 11

CLUB MED ALPS

With up to 12 hours of daylight, lesser guests and plenty of snow cover on your ski runs, you'll find yourself glued to the slopes. Experience all these and more at our Alps resorts that offer this unique snow experience.

BEYOND SKIING: THERE'S SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Looking for some fun other than ski? Club Med's snow mountain resorts offer a myriad of leisure and non-ski activities, perfect for bonding with family and friends. From a relaxing outdoor Canadian bath, to snow sledding and nightly entertainment, we've got something for everyone.

Pools and relaxation

From a pampering spa treatment* by our premium spa partners, to a fun time with your family in our pools, your snow mountain vacation is complete with many different facilities that Club Med offers. In Club Med Tomamu Hokkaido, you will also get access to Mina Mina, the largest indoor wave pool in Japan operated by Hoshino Resorts.

When to try: The whole winter season

Snowshoeing

Who knew walking on snow can be a form of exercise? If you are not a ski explorer, opt for an easier sport such as trekking on snow with our G.Os. Quite an art on its own, snowshoeing requires the right footwear so that you can better distribute your body weight on the powder snow as you trek and enjoy the charming mountain surroundings. This activity is great for guests of every fitness level and age.

Sledding

Surrounded by the beautiful landscapes of mountain ranges and snow-covered forests, feel the icy cold wind blowing on your face as you slide down the snow hill on a sledge. Perfect for families and children, this activity is available in most of our snow mountain resorts as a bonding activity.

Equipment: Sleds are provided

When to try: January-March where snowfall is thicker

Snowboarding

Looking for some family fun? Snowboarding is perfect for all ages. If you're new to the sport, partake in our group lessons to avoid injuries and get confident on the board. Club Med offers progressive lessons so you can eventually tackle steeper runs, try a few off-piste routes and even learn how to make small jumps if you are a fast learner.

When to try: The whole winter season

If you're after something even more exciting, there are some specialist sports* that will give you a few tales to tell at the bar. Skijoring, which means 'ski driving', involves a skier being pulled along at great speed by a team of dogs or horses over a course that often includes jumps. If you really don't like skis, you could try snow kayaking, in which you negotiate a fast slope sitting in a kayak, or snow tubing in an inflatable ring. For the truly adventurous, night sledding offers thrills and, quite likely, spills as you speed down a mountain in complete darkness, with only a headlamp and blind panic to get you to the bottom. Some of these thrilling activities are available in our selected European ski resorts.

CAPTURING THE BEST OF YOUR SKI TRIP

Whether you have a smartphone, a simple point-and-shoot camera or a professional DSLR, there are a few golden rules to shooting on the slopes. So grab your camera or smart phone, set up your subject and get ready to shoot some serious ski action!

COLD CLIMATE PROTECTION

If it's snowing make sure your camera and lenses are covered up or in a waterproof bag. Try not to keep your camera too warm as whipping it out for that once-in-a-lifetime shot will cause condensation on the lens, giving you a foggy image. Camera batteries also lose their charge in cold conditions, so keep any spare batteries handy.

BEWARE OF EXPOSURE

The brightness of the snow presents a number of challenges for auto modes, under-exposing the image and giving your landscapes a grey tint. If your camera has scene modes, choose the 'snow' or 'snow/beach' setting to bring the snow back to a dazzling white.

CHANGE THE ANGLE

Try going low when capturing the action on the slopes, or even tilting the camera to give you another angle. By adding an element of intrigue to your pictures, you'll keep the attention of your viewers longer.

ACTION MODE

If your camera has a sport mode, use it. It will give you a faster shutter speed to help you capture the action on the slopes and prevent blur. If you have a DSLR, set it to 1/1000 seconds shutter speed.

USING A GOPRO ON THE SLOPES

You can secure a GoPro on the helmet, the chest or the skis. Also, make sure it's in a waterproof case—even on the back of a ski it will get covered in snow—and pack a spare battery or two.

DECLUTTER YOUR BACKGROUND

Nothing ruins a fantastic shot like a boundary tape and crowds of people. So pay attention to what's in the background and change your angle. Also, check your horizon is level—if all you can see is a slope, tilt the camera slightly to make it look steeper.
